

Energy Interactions

Almost never

Aspects that are invisible or hidden from you, or that you do not directly interact with.

Occasionally

Aspects you may only interact with only occasionally.

Sometimes

Aspects you engage with infrequently (say a few times a year or every few years).

Everyday

Aspects of energy extraction, production & supply that you interact with or consume everyday

GUIDE

Use this diagram as a template to map out your personal relationships and connections to energy extraction, refining, distribution and consumption, as detailed in the MDL Fossil Fuel & Carbon Economy schematics.

Use everyday items you find in your home to build a 3D 'map' and sense of scale to the things you use on an everyday basis, through to the things you hardly ever interact with directly, but which are essential to those that you do interact with.
